TRANSPLANT PULMONOLOGIST

The Division of Pulmonary Diseases & Critical Care Medicine and the Department of Medicine of School of Medicine at the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio is seeking lung transplant pulmonologists to join an established Lung Transplant Program. Positions are for Open Rank faculty positions. Interested candidates must be MD, DO or foreign equivalent, and have lung transplantation experience. Substantial resources will be available to successfully recruit candidate to successfully grow our internationally-prominent clinical and research lung transplant program.

ABIM or foreign equivalent certified/eligible in Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine, successful completion of an accredited transplant pulmonology fellowship program and a minimum of one year experience in all aspects of medical management of lung transplant patients is required. Some experience in interventional pulmonary procedures supporting lung transplant patients is desirable. Candidates must be UNOS qualified. Candidates must have a strong interest in teaching, patient care, scholarly productivity, and academics. Texas Licensure eligible/required.

The mission of the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio is to make lives better through excellence in education, research, health care and community engagement. UTHSCSA offers a competitive compensation plan which includes a competitive salary, comprehensive insurance package, and a generous retirement plan. Compensation and academic rank will commensurate with the candidate’s experiences.

All faculty appointments are designed as security sensitive positions. The University of Texas Health Science Center San Antonio is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer including protected veterans and persons with disabilities.

For more information, email or send your CV to:

Jay I. Peters, MD
Professor and Chief, Division of Pulmonary Diseases & Critical Care
7703 Floyd Curl Drive, MC7885, San Antonio, Texas 78229-3900
peters@uthscsa.edu.